Young Mother Dies—

Mrs. Roy Plumb of Chinook died yesterday morning, and her new born baby died the previous day. Her death seems very sad, as she was quite young, only 19 or 20 years. She was very well known across the river, and many here will also be shocked to learn of her untimely death.

The price paid for the property was $3500.

Cigar Slot Machines—

It is stated that the question of putting out slot machines that pay in cigars is being looked into. Some are desirous of having them, and it is stated that one or more of the main officials of the city are in favor of the movement. It looks as if somebody is looking for trouble.

Norman Hackett, the popular young American actor, in "Classmates," the great American play, will be at the Astoria Theatre on April 24th. The production is one of the most sumptuous on the road.

Will Repair Slip—

Contractor Lebeck has been engaged by the O. R. & N. Company to drive the three piles and mend the slip at the western end of the steamship landing at the big docks, and a new fender-float for service at the same berthing. The work will go forward at once.

That Eighth Street Sewer—

There is a growing complaint up Eighth street way, about the caving in of the sewer between Franklin and Grand avenues, which for nearly three months, has lain open and offensive; and there is an earnest desire that steps be taken to remedy it before the warm days arrive to accentuate it.

May It Prove True—

A pleasant rumor reached this city yesterday afternoon, to the effect that the properties and plant of the Old Oregon Mills, at Warrenton, have been purchased outright by a concern in that line, and that it will soon be in full operation again. Particulars are lacking at the moment, but the rumor comes from significant source and is likely to materialize at a reasonably early day.

Plateglass Exhibit—

Messrs. Danziger & Company, the well known clothiers, have gone to considerable trouble and artistic lengths, to make an interesting Easter display behind their handsome windows, in which the traditional rabbit figures conspicuously, along with the usual appearances to his habitat. It is attracting a good deal of attention and pleasant comment.

The Potters' Field—

Judge Trenchard yesterday looked up the matter of the right of the county to use the Potters' field in the city cemetery and finds that the county has the right. In the year 1885, on April 20, the city sold to the county 4.68 acres in Ocean View cemetery to be used by the county as a Potters' field, paying $187.20 therefor. The deed was signed by Mayor Hume. It appears that the city officials had not looked back far enough to find the deed; and the investigation now made by Judge Trenchard settles the county's right to the field. It is also stated that the county coroner keeps exact records of the poor buried in the Potters' field. This straightens the matter out, and the community may now rest satisfied that now excellent records are being kept of all burials.

At a meeting of the school board last night the building committee reported in favor of the erection of a new high school building, and the report was adopted by the board.

It is probable that the school board will recommend to the tax payers of the district that a new high school building be erected, and that a vote be held for the purpose of definitely acting upon the matter. The board can only recommend, that it is for the tax payers to act. The matter is not definitely settled in all its details by the board yet, but the necessity of a new building is so well known that there is little question that one will soon be built. It has been suggested by one or more citizens that the architectural side of the matter be considered very carefully, as well as the mere question of utility. Probably a special meeting of the tax payers will soon be called to go into the whole matter, when the board can submit its recommendations.

Miss Shively handed in her resignation last night and it was accepted, to take effect May 1. Superintendent Clark was authorized to go ahead with the work of preparation for the educational exhibit at the Seattle fair. It was also voted that all those teachers who wish for reappointment for next year should have their applications in by May 1.

Taken By Surprise—

Mr. Knut P. Neste, brother of Rev. Neste and Mr. Albert Molden, brother of Mrs. Neste, both of Decorah, Iowa, arrived in this city Monday evening, and are visiting the pastor and his wife. They came unexpectedly and will visit this locality about a month before returning home. They are well pleased with Astorian, and chances are they may make this their future home.

Big Project Afoot—

Manager Arthur Callan, of the Pacific Hardware & Steel Company, of Portland, who has been here for several days, says that the work of reducing the hulls of the British vessels Peter Iredale and Galena, purchased by his firm, will be proceeded with at once and steadily, until the last pound of "junk" is saved and shipped. It is expected that the work of breaking up the huge iron hulls will take long enough for the company to expend about $15,000, in the various elements of the business down here, including wages, cartage, and freight bills. There will be in the neighborhood of 3600 tons of material handled before the job is ended.

Committee Will Meet—

The committee appointed by the common council in to investigate the matter of the "rumor" against Mr. Prael, of the question of Martin Ford's right to retain his seat in the police commission and to make thorough examination into the various saloon ordinances that have been proposed, will meet in the common council chamber next Monday night. The principal work will be to go over the saloon matter, for the purpose of framing a comprehensive ordinance. It is desired to settle the whole question, and it is recognized that until the proper ordinance is adopted the agitation will not stop. It is understood that an invitation will be extended to citizens who are interested to be present.

Brick Plant a Go—

L. L. Wall, who has been here for sometime past looking into the possibilities of the plant and properties of the Astoria Clay Products Company, has reached a business conclusion that it is an excellent proposition and will at once proceed to exploit it for all it is worth, and has closed negotiations with the company to this end. The plant is now equipped with some very fine machinery, and new improvements, especially in the line of quick drying facilities are to be added immediately, and the outfit set in motion. Everyone in the city who has knowledge of the real and costly lengths to which the owning company has gone to make this plant successful, will give Mr. Wall an earnest of success in his new venture.

Paid City a Compliment—

A well known drummer for a famous patent-medicine house in the East yesterday paid this city a very distinct compliment, in this office, while it was inadvertently done, was unequivocally sincere and utterly unsolicited. Said he: "I sometimes deprecate the necessity of placing our ads in the press of Astoria; not because it is not a good business proposition, nor that it is entirely useless, but because of the fact that Astoria's uses less of patent medicines than any city of her size in the United States; and this does not apply alone to our specialties; any other drummer for proprietary medicines in the country, will tell you the same thing." There is much more in this assertion than the gentleman's mere complaint.

Donald Stuart II—

Yesterday morning it was learned that Donald Stuart was quite ill in Los Angeles, where he is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pillsbury, the parents of his "chum," and a candidate for a delicate operation, on his jaw, necessitated by some unprofessional work on the part of a dentist lately employed to fix up his teeth. Just what the nature of the trouble is, his father, D. M. Stuart, of this city could not say, but it was serious enough to move that gentleman and his wife to an immediate departure for the south to be with their son in the illness that has overtaken him. They left last evening for Los Angeles, and their friends trust the errand may prove void of unfortunate results.

Dalgity Locked Up—

Andrew Dalgity, whose troubles with the Foresters have been recounted in these columns before, was arrested Monday night in Portland on a charge of taking some of the funds from that organization. He was locked-up in the county jail, not being able to secure bonds at first and it is not known here whether he has yet been able to secure his release. The charges against him appear to be of a serious nature, though he apparently has not been greatly troubled by them and he denies that there was any wrongdoing in the matter. He alleges the amount with which he is charged with being short—should be offset by his expense accounts, which he had not turned in, he says. It is also said here that he had secured something over $1000 from his aged mother, which has been spent. There are many here who regret to hear of the trouble in which Dalgity finds himself, as he was a genial and likeable fellow.

THE REVENUE CUTTER.

BALTIMORE, Md., April 6.—The new revenue cutter service ship Tacoma, recently completed at Camden, N. J., has finished taking on her stores at Arundel Cove and within a day or two she will depart on a globe-girdling trip with Port Townsend, Wash., as her destination. The little craft will not make the voyage by way of Cape Horn, as was at first proposed, but will take the eastward route, going by way of the Suez canal. Several months will be required to make the trip and steps will be made for coal and stores at Gibraltar, Port Said, Colombo, Singapore, Manila and Yokohama. The last leg of the long journey will be from Unalaska, the most western of the Aleutian Islands, to Port Townsend.

Duncan Irving, the leading role in De Mille's great American play, "Classmates," will be played by Norman Hackett at the Astoria Theatre on April 24th.
